According to the consus of 1890, there were 73,000 Chinese in the State of California. According to the state of California. According to the census just taken, there are only about 45,000 there, which effectually disproves the statement frequently made that thousands of Chinamen are constantly pouring into the State in spite of the exclusion laws.

On the other hand, the number of Japanese in California have increased some tenfold in the last ten years. In 1890 there were only a few more than 1000 Japanese, while now there are more than ten thousand there. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES!

Merriam.

Col. Lee asserts that the Indians have made complaint that the agent has not given them sufficient seed grain to plant and thereby raise their crops, but this is found to be simply a complaint and to carry with it no indications whatever of hostility. The story of the killing of an Indian by a white sheepherder grew out of a shooting affair between the two sheepherders, both white, in which neither MEW YORK, June 11.—The convention of the National Metal Trades' Association continued its sessions to day. The closing hours of the convention are being devoted to the completion of the organization and the arrangement of plans to strengthen the hands of the manufacturers in their first against the striking machinists. The sum of $500.00 raised by assessment is to be placed at the disposal of a strike committee to be used in behalf of the employers. We are suffering no loss arising from delay on captracts which we were fulfilling at the time our machinists struck, for all of our contracts contain a strike clause releasing us from liability."

The convention will this afternoon dispose of the important question of hours of labor. Just before recess a committee consisting of W. G. King of Suffalo, F. H. Stillman of New York and J. M. There are advocates of a universal nine-hour day, friends of a ten-hour day are with five hours on Saturday, and a radical party that is for a straight ten-hour day through the entire week. TWO MORE DEAD BODIES.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WEST NEWTON (Pa.) June 12.—
The death of Harry Beveridge at the McKeesport Hospital last night brings the total number of fatalities of the Port Royal mine disaster up to eighteen. The last rescuing party entered the ill-fated mine shortly before midnight, and explored it for a distance of about three thousand feet. The dead body of David James was found this morning, and was identified by a rag tied around the little toe of the left foot. The flesh was burned from the face in several places, and apparently the body had met nearly the full force of the second explosion. Another party will enter the mine shortly.

There have been five bodies recovered since the first explosion. There are still thirteen bodies in the mine, and several experienced miners here from the Panhandle district think that they will be recovered.

What the exact conditions are in the unexplored parts of the mine, is not known. That there is fire is the opinion of many, but its severity cannot be even guessed at. The next party to enter the mine will extend its ventilation as far as possible, and rid out whatever gas can be reached.

There is some talk of nooding the mine today, and if it be done the bodies of the men that are there will not be taken out for eighteen months, at the looked for.

As soon as the officials left the office of the company, men were hurried to the shafts of the mine, and ropes were stretched around the shafts and guards stationed to keep the people back. It was decided to have the crowd kept back about 30° feet from the mouth of the pit, as the fire raging below is expected to light the gas in other workings at some time, and should the crowd be around the mouth of the shaft when these explosions occur, lives might be lost.

The mine is rapidly filling with gas, and the muffled reports of explosions can be heard every few minutes. The rope atretched across the mouth of the mine keeps the crowd well back, and notices have been sent out that a heavy explosion like an earthquake may occur at any time, and the host be blown away, and all movable property belonging to the company has been cleared from the pit mouth.

BATTLESHIP ILLINOIS INITIAL TEST A STAR ONE.

She Made More Than Seventeen Knots an Hour Over the Entire Course of Sixty-six Knots and Out-shines all Her Class.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] BOSTON, June 12.—With the proud distinction of being the fastest battle-ship in America, and the speedlest of her class in the world, the new sea fighter Illinois came to anchor in Presidents Roads tonight after a most suc-cessful trial. Over the Governor course from Cape Ann to Cape Porpoise and from Cape Ann to Cape Forpoise and return, a distance of sixty-six nautical miles, she raced today under the watchful eyes of United States naval representatives and established a new record by maintaining an average speci of 17.31 knots for four consecutive hours. Not only did she demonstrate that she was faster than any warship of her size affoat, but she proved her ability to turn upon an enemy with extraordinary quickness by describing a complete circle within 300 yards, or little more than twice her length in three minutes and ten seconds, while plowing through the sea of the large. Steadness and reserve power characterised the performance of the ship throughout the entire test. The work of her englines was smooth and even, and the records of the day showed but one-tenth of a knot difference in speed between the northern run and the return run. MISS FLAGLER MARRIED.

COLORED BOY CHIVALROUS. IBT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. WASHINGTON, June 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch. The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Moore Flagler to Dr. George Wilbert Mackean of Braddock, Cape Brebert Mackean of Braddock, Cape Breion, Canada, was solemnized at 11 o'clock today at St. Margaret's Church.
Only twelve people were admitted to the church. The bridal party and guests entered the edifice through the rear way. About twenty colored people collected around the place at an early nour, but as they were perfectly orderly the special police had no reason to disperse them. They did not have even a glimpse of the wedding party. There was not the slightest demonstration.

The father of the small colored boy, Ernest Green, who was shot by Miss Flagler six years ago, went yesterday to his friends and relatives, who, it was rumored, had planned an unpleasant demonstration, and begged them not to carry it out. He is Secretary Gage's messenger, and is highly esteemed by his employer.

Mrs. Flagler, who was very much worried over the suggestion of a demonstration, did not go to the church; out the bride herself was not alarmed, and today she appeared at her best, and was smiling when she entered the chancel from a side door on the arm of her brother, Capt. Clement A. F. Flagler, U.S.A.

Miss Flagler was gowned in white rilk, and wore a fancy straw hat with white roses and chiffon trimming. Dr. Mackean is a tall, stately man of dignified demeanor and pronouncedly English in appearance. There were no attendants.

After the marriago the party was given to the handsome home of Mrs. Flagler, where a breakfast was served and a reception held, to which two hundred guests were invited. The company included prominent people from the army, nay and resident socity. Dr. Mackean and his bride will to the Nova Scotia after a trip through the Great Lake region.

IRRIGATION AND CHINESE.

TESTIMONY AT WASHINGTON.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. I
WASHINGTON, June 12.—Prof.
Meade, the Agricultural Department expert, continued his testimony before the Industrial Commission. He said that irrigation is necessary in two-fifths of the area of the United States to make farming profitable. To those inclined to consider it a sectional question, he would say that irrigation within the past few years had redeemed an area in Louisiana and Texas larger than some New England States, causing an increase in the value of the land from $50 to $100 an acre. He said that irrigation is becoming a necessary adjunct to mak gardening profitable along the Atlantic Coast. He estimated that there are not fewer than 75,000 irrigation ditches in the United States, costing a total of not less than $200,000,000, and possibly more. He advocated government aid under certain restrictions in redeeming some sections of the country by irrigation.

In the afternoon, Thomas Turnbull, representing the San Prancisco Chamber of Commerce, testified concerning labor conditions in California. He said that, generally speaking, skilled labor receives better wages in California than in the Eastern States, where there is no similar difference in the wages of unskilled labor. He expressed the opinion that the cheapness of Chinese labor is due almost entirely to the inefficiency of the Chinese as laborers. Speaking of the Chinese, he said the sentiment in California was generally favorable to their proscription, as they were not desirable acquisitions from any point of view.

Mrs. Carter said she suspected the presence of bees three years ago, but was not sure of it until last week, when a honey bee alighted on her neck as she was sitting by a window. An investigation followed, and a defective place was found at the corner of the house, where bees entered their curious hive. The swarm will not be disturbed if Mrs. Carter can help it.

It will go to Wel-Hui-Fu, in the province will foliow on its return to Peking. It will go to Wel-Hui-Fu, in the province of Hunan, thence by boat along the river and Grand Canal to Techou, thence overand to Pao-Ting-Fu, and then by rail to the capital. Li Hung Chang today sent proclamations to local officials along the route to make preparations. The court is adraid to travel by way of Then-Tsin or the disturbed districts in Central and Southern China. The route now secided upon is longer than the one originally selected. Part of it, between Techou and Pao Ting Fu, is most difficult. There is no direct important highway, and there are no inns.

Further details have been received of the rebellion in Chile. It appears that Tien Loh Slang, in order to resist the collection of church indemnities, organized what is known as the Organized Willages' Society in Shen Chou. Seventy other villages joined heartly afterward, and now there are many lawless characters and soldiers of the regular army to the number of 20,000 or 30,000 in the 700 villages connected with the movement. Some of the rebels are engaged in making weapons. Li Hung Chang admits that Col. Bitao Sheng has failed to put down the insurgents, and the French are now operating against them.

The provincial treasurer of Chou Fu has requested the misionaries to present evidence of their accusations against the Boxer chiefs, who will be punished, if convicted. He has also asked for a secondary list of all Boxers who were specially active or directly implicated in outraging Christians. This list will be handed to local magistrates, and those whose names appear on it will be kept under surveillance. They will be required to give bonds to remain orderly. In case of misconduct, they will be liable to punishment for all offences.

This is the best action yet taken against the Boxers in the province of Chili. It will act as a strong deter-

"There will be no meat famine in San Francisco as a result of the present strike." said Isaac Frohman today. Frohman is attorney for the wholesale firms and their authorized mouthpiece. There was not much that he wanted to say at this time, but the foregoing declaration was significant of the sense of the strength the meat men feel.

"There will be no meat famine," continued Frohman, "because a large majority of retail dealers have decided to decline to unionisé their shops. That means that they will continue to receive supplies from wholesale firms, and they will continue to supply their rustomers. The case of Decker of Dakland will be repeated in this city. Asked as to the use of this fund, W.

J. Chalmers, chairman of the Press Committee, said: "I suppose we will use it as the strikers do, to support their fellows, pay pickets and meet other general expenses. We used 1166,000 in the Cleveland strike, where we paid some men a bonus of 14 a day. There are millions more if they are needed. We have just received a telegram from the Pacific Coast pledging 114 out of 125 firms to membership. We have delegrates from San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, and the West is with us and we are gratified to receive their support. We seek no trouble, but we propose to protect our interests and industries. We are suffering no loss arising from delay on contracts which we were fulfilling at the time our machinists struck, for all of our contracts contain a strike clause releasing us from liability."

The convention will this afternoon dispose of the important question of hours of labor. Just before recess a committee consisting of W. G. King of Buffalo, F. H. Stillman of New York and J. M. WEST NEWTON (Pa.) June 12.—
The death of Harry Beveridge at the McKeesport Hospital last night brings the total number of fatalities of the Port Royal mine disaster up to eighteen. The last rescuing party entered the ill-fated mine shortly before midnight, and explored it for a distance of about three thousand feet. The dead body of David James was found this morning, and was identified by a rag tied around the little toe of the left foot. The flesh was burned from the face in several places, and apparently the body had met nearly the full force of the second explosion. Another party will enter the mine shortly.

other party will enter the mine shortly.

There have been five bodies recovered since the first explosion. There are still thirteen bodies in the mine, and several experienced miners here from the Panhandle district think that they will be recovered.

What the exact conditions are in the unexplored parts of the mine, is not known. That there is fire is the opinion of many, but its severity cannot be even guessed at. The next party to enter the mine will extend its ventilation as far as possible, and rid out whatever gas can be reached.

There is some talk of flooding the mine today, and fit it be done the bodies of the men that are there will not be taken out for eighteen months, at the least. The conference of mine officials today showed that more explosions are looked for.

As soon as the officials left the office of the company, men were hurried to the shafts of the mine, and ropes were stretched around the shafts and guards stationed to keep the people back. It was decided to have the crowd kept back about 300 feet from the mouth of the pit, as the fire raging below is expected to light the gas in other workings at some time, and should the crowd be around the mouth of the shaft when these explosions occur, lives might be lost.

The mine is rapidly filling with gas, and the muffled reports of explosions can be heard every few minutes. The rope stretched across the mouth of the mine keeps the crowd well back, and notices have been sent out that a heavy explosion like an earthquake may occur at any time, and the hoist be blown away, and all movable property belonging to the company has been clearef from the pit mouth.

Over the Governor course from Cape Ann to Cape Porpoise and return, a distance of sixty-six nautical return, a distance of sixty-six nautical miles, she raced today under the watchful eyes of United States naval representatives and established a new record by maintaining an average spied of 17.31 knots for four consecutive hours. Not only did she demonstrate that she was faster than any warship of her size affoat, but she proved her ability to turn upon an enemy with extraordinary quickness by describing a complete circle within 300 yards, or sittle more than twice her length in three minutes and tea seconds, while plowing through the sea of full speed.

Steadness and reserve power characterized the performance of the ship throughout the entire test. MISS FLAGLER MARRIED. COLORED BOY CHIVALROUS.

(BT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, June 12.—[Exclus Dispatch. The marriage of Miss Eliza oeth Moore Flagler to Dr. George Wil-bert Mackean of Braddock, Cape Bre-on, Canada, was solemnized at 11 'clock today at St. Margaret's Church. Only twelve people were admitted to the church. The bridal party and yuests entered the edifice through the

There was not the slightest demonstration.

The father of the small colored boy, Ernest Green, who was shot by Miss Flagler six years ago, went yesterday to his friends and relatives, who, it was rumored, had planned an unpleasant demonstration, and begged them not to carry it out. He is Secretary Gage's measenger, and is highly esteemed by his employer.

Mrs. Flagler, who was very much worried over the suggestion of a demonstration, did not go to the church; out the bride herself was not alarmed, and today she appeared at her best, and was smiling when she entered the chancel from a side door on the arm of her brother, Capt. Clement A. F. Flagler, U.S.A.

Miss Flagler was gowned in white rilk, and wore a fancy straw hat with white roses and chiffon trimming. Dr. Mackean is a tall, stately man of dignified demeanor and pronguncedly English in appearance. There were no attendants.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Prof.

Meade, the Agricultural Department expert, continued his testimony before the industrial Commission. He said that irrigation is necessary in two-fifths of the area of the United States inclined to consider it a sectional question, he would say that irrigation within the past few years had redeemed an area in Louisiana and Texas larger than some New England States, causing an increase in the value of the land from $50 to $100 an acre. He said that irrigation is becoming a necessary adjunct to mak gardening profitable along the Atlantic Coast. He estimated that there are not fewer than 75,000 irrigation ditches in the United States, costing a total of not less than $200,000,000, and possibly more. He advocated government aid under certain restrictions in redeeming some sections of the country by irrigation.

redeeming some sections of the country by irrigation.

In the afternoon, Thomas Turnbull, representing the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, testified concerning labor conditions in California. He said that, generally speaking, skilled labor receives better wages in California than in the Eastern States, where there is no similar difference in the wages of unskilled labor. He expressed the opinion that the cheapness of Chinese labor is due almost entirely to the inefficiency of the Chinese as laborers. Speaking of the Chinese, he said the sentiment in California was generally favorable to their proscription, as they were not desirable acquisitions from any point of view.

NOVEL BEE HIVE.

IN SENATOR CARTER'S HOUSE.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, June 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] Washington, the house of ex-Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana. has become the hive of a swarm of bees and the industrious insects have already packed full of honey the entire space under the floor of one room. Large quantities of hone; hundreds of pounds of it. Mrs. Carter thinks, have been taken out during the last week by human inmates of the house. This store of honey is believed to represent accumulations of three years. The ex-Senator himself has become interested in honcy mining, as he calls it, and declares, with his wife, that this honey is the most delicious ever tasted.

The Carters live in a substantial and attractive brick house at No. 1433 Stoughton street, and neighbors have begged the ex-Senator's family not to disturb the bees, but to let them continue the manufacture of the delicious sweetness, which Mrs. Carter has been distributing freely among residents of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Carter said she suspected the presence of bees three years ago, but was not sure of it until last week, when a honey bee alighted on her neck as she was sitting by a window. An investigation followed, and a defective place was found at the corner of the house, where bees entered their curious hye. The swarm will not be disturbed if Mrs. Carter can help it.

THE CRISIS IN CHINA COURT AFRAID TO TRAVEL

Route to Peking Has Been Changed.

Rebellion in Chili is a Serious Affair.

Seven Hundred Villages Are Banded Together-Action Against Boxers.

PEKING, Jue 12.- [Exclusive Dis paich.] A telegram from Slang-Fu an-nounces that an edict has been issued changing the route which the court will follow on its return to Peking. It will go to Wei-Hui-Fu, in the province of Hunan, thence by boat slong the river and Grand Canal to Techou, thence overand to Pao-Ting-Fu, and then by rail to the capital. Li Hung Chang today sent proclamations to lo-cal officials along the route to make preparations. The court is afraid to travel by way of Tien-Tsin or the dis-preparations. The court is afraid to travel by way of Tien-Tsin or the disturbed districts in Central and Southern China. The route now secided upon is longer than the one originally selected. Part of it, between Techou and Pae Ting Fu, is most difficult. There is no direct important highway, and there are no inns.

Further details have been received of the rebellion in Chile. It appears that Tien Loh Slang, in order to resist the collection of church indemnities, organized what is known as the Organized Villages' Society in Shen Chou. Seventy other villages joined heartily afterward, and now there are many lawjess characters and soldiers of the regular army to the number of 20,000 or 30,000 in the 700 villages connected with the movement. Some of the rebels are engaged in making weapons. Li Hung Chang admits that Col. Bitao Sheng has failed to put down the insurgents, and the French are now operating against them.

The provincial treasurer of Chou Fu has requested the misionaries to present, evidence of their accusations against the Boxer chiefs, who will be punished, if convicted. He has also asked for a secondary list of all Boxers who were specially active or directly implicated in outraging Christians. This list will be handed to local magistrates, and those whose names appear on it will be kept under surveillance. They will be required to give bonds to remain orderly. In case of misconduct, they will be liable to punishment for all offences.

This is the best action yet taken against the Boxers in the province of Chill. It will act as a strong deter-

Gallant Vessel Passes Through the Golden Gate After an Absence of Over Three Years-Greeted by the Mayor and a Band-Going to Puget Sound.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) absence of nearly three years and three months.

Soon after the lookout on Point Lobos reported the battleship's appearance, the entire waterfront and half of the city knew that the famous Oregon was entering the harbor. Sirens screeched, and steom whistles made an uproar from the seawall to the Union Iron Works, the birthplace of the Oregon, the history of which has give a fame to the battleship such as no other sea-fighter has. Launches and tugs put out to meet the long-absent Oregon; river steamers hastlly decorated, steamed down the bay and hoarsely greeted her, and passing ferryboats fairly careened under the weight of the crowds that were 'ammed against the railing to catch a glimpse of the massive, but graceful warrior. Passing up the channel, dipping her flag to the salutes of British and American vessels on the way, and replying with deep whistling to similar forms of greeting, the Oregon reached a point off the ferry depot before firing a salute of thirteen guns to the flagship lows, at anchor off Folsom street.

SAN JOSE, June 12.—Estimates made the present week by packers and canners as to the fruit crop are not at all encouraging. There is no longer any doubt that the prune yield is going to fall below even the conservative computations heretofore made. Instances have been reported of whole orchards without a solitary specimen of the fruit being left on the trees.

Two prominent growers, each with orchards exceeding 160 acres, reported to the Cured Fruit Association this morning that they could not find, after diligent search, a total of a pound of fruit on either place. This condition of affairs extends trregularly on the low-lands all along the west side of the valley from Mountain View to Gilroy.

In peaches the conditions are similar. Up to the present time the reports of short crops have been interpreted in some quarters as the result of pessimistic verdicts of the discontented. The results of the efforts of the packers during the past three days confirm the most affirmative estimates of small yields made earlier in the season. The canners are satisfied that fruit is going to be very short, and are even now directing their efforts to get supplies in other portions of the State.

The cherry season is past its meridian, and the statement that the yield has been below a half average has long since been confirmed by the high prices in the local markets and the absence of any large quantities being offered for shipment. Apricots seem to have fared better than any of the fruit varieties, but they are not in such abundance as to even supply the local demand thus far.

To the average woman this will be the grandest bargain sale we have conducted this season. And yet, four thousand yards is scarcely enough to say very much about, considering the thousands of women who need wash goods of one kind or another.

These go on sale at once. They are fresh, soft, beautiful fabrics, consisting of favorite sellers. None are worth less than 10c; the majority are worth 121/2c, and many of them you'd readily buy at 15c. You can choose from a tempting variety of patterns at the uniform price -5c the yard.

You'd think it absurd to buy such dainty new materials at the price of cheap cotton cloths, but that's our way of doing things.

the honesty and sincerity of the people.

The social scale of morality under American military rule, while considerably superior to that under the Spanish regime, is very far below what would be tolerated by any American town, however remote. It is the commonest of sights to see the negro soldier of the Ninth Cavalry walking the street with a straight-haired native girl. He seems what the white soldier rarely is, really enamored of her. Their amours go far beyond what Americans would call propriety, with ittle or no heed of what the public may say or think.

little or no heed of what the public may say or think.

Nine desertions, which have occurred from the ranks of the Ninth Cavalry, are attributed to the influence of the native women. Some of the deserters are now serving with the ragged remnant of the insurgents. Lieut. Curry, the new Governor of the province, suggests that the permanent barracks ought to be built outside of the towns and the soldiers permitted to enter towns only on special occasions.

A far more hopeful feature of the Camarines situation is the school. While Gen. James M. Bell, until recently in command of the district. was chasing the insurgents and being alternately criticised and praised, he did not forget their education. During his command, sixty-three schools were established in the South Camarines alone, and twenty-five soldier teachers were detailed to teach in English.

Pe-ru-na is a natural and efficient nerve tonic. It strengthens and restores the activity of every nerve in the body. Through the use of Pe-ru-na the weakened or overworked nerves resume their natural strength and the blood ressels begin at once to regulate the flow of blood according to nature's lawa. Congestions immediately disappear.

Summer Catarrh. All phases of summer catarrh, acute or chronic, are promptly and perma-nently cured. It is through its opera-tion upon the nervous system that Pe-ru-na has obtained such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable rem-edy for all phases of catarrh, wherever located.

Owing to the restrictions made necessary by narrower and lower tunnels, and other essential differences which characterize English roads, as compared with ours, and the same is largely true, I understand, on the contineut, it is simply impossible for them to utilize such a machine as we now regard as a truly American locomotive. The result is they get a sort of hybrid affair, built by American skill, but on foreign lines, and to meet foreign requirements, and then, if it does not prove to be all they had hoped for, they proceed to criticise the American locomotives." PIMA BOND FIGHT.

The people of Pima county have not given up the fight on the narrow gauge subsidy bonds. At a general meeting of citizens held lately a vote of confidence was tendered the Board of Supervisors and the counsel in charge, Rochester Ford, and the Supervisors were advised to take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States and to fight it to the bitter end. After two years of wranging and conferences, the debt to be taken by Santa Crus county from its parent, Pima county, has been adjusted. The main source of tribulation has been the Courthouse in Tucson, valued by the Santa Cruz representatives at $100,000, and by the Pima county people at $30,000. A compromise was finally struck at $30,000, and the rest was easy. Of the total debt of the old Pima county, $37.424, the new county assumes $38,407 of the amount issuing to Pima county $38,513 in 7-per-cent. bonds, and $44,893 in 5-per-cents.

OIL SOLVES PROBLEM.

The main cost of operating the mines and mill of the Mammoth Company, north of Tucson, has been for fuel. Practically all the wood available has been cut, and the fuel bill for the last year of operation was in the neighborhood of f70,000. Receiver Blair at one time thought to secure electrical power from Aravaipa Creek, or the Glia, but the water supply was found too irregular and the cost excessive. He is now studying on a scheme of installing a power plant in Tucson, using crude oil as fuel. His plans are for works capable of producing 750 horse power, of which 500 horse power will be transmitted electrically to Mammoth, forty-seven miles distant, leaving a margin for other works in this vicinity or even for illuminating the city. The estimated cost of the works is $100,000.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

Miss Sadie L. Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wilde of this city, and Raiph E. Davis, a resident of Stockton, Cal., were married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, No. 356 Brent street. Rev. Thomas Hendry officiated. The house was beautifully decorated, the colors in the large double parlors being carried out in pink and white, roses and ribbons, sweet peas and carnations being used. The ceremony took place under a beautiful canopy suspended from the ceiling, lined with pink and white roses. The dining-room was in red. Little Miss Mabel Wright, niece of the bride, acted as ring bearer. She was daintily gowned in white, and carried a white satin cushion bearing the ring. Miss Mae Wilde, sister of the, bride, acted as bridesmald, and she was gowned in white satin cushion bearing the ring. These plants seem to partake of the nature and character of the serpent; in winter time being comparatively harmless, but when warmed into life by spring and summer heat they become extremely venomous and spiteful, emitting a milky juice that burns and blisters like a fiery acid, producing quick inflammation and painful swelling. Some persons are so susceptible to these vegetable poisons that coming in their vicinity will produce almost as much discomfort and pain as handling them; their thin and sensitive skins seem to absorb from the surrounding atmosphere the acrid juices emanating from these plants. There is seldom a picnic or family gathering in the woods but that some mem-ber of the party comes in contact with Poison Ivy, Oak or some other hurtful plant or weed, and through the open pores the poison is carried to the overheated blood. Poison Ivy is found clinging to tree trunks, beginning July 1 was disposed of in a hurry.

Prof. W. W. Tritt was unanimously chosen for the newly-created office of assistant city superintendent of schools.

The following were unanimously reclected: Deputy city superintendent of schools J. B. Millard; secretary of the board, N. S. Averili; secretary clerk, Miss Grace Kingsiey; bookkeeper, Miss Boynton; supply clerk, Mr. Thomas; assistant foreman, C. N. Charlton.

Mr. Hard nominated Samuel Garber for foreman, but William Downey received eight votes.

HIRING OF SPEAKERS.

The High School Committee reported

The High School Committee reported the plans for holding commencement exercises in Hazard's Pavilion. An item of over $50 for securing of a peaker for the occasion aroused some amounting. Mr. Poley figured out that the plans for holding commencement exercises in Hazard's Pavilion. An item of over 350 for securing of a speaker for the decasion aroused some opposition. Mr. Foley figured out that it a minute for a thirty-minute address was somewhat steep, and Mr. Horgan joined in an inquiry why a member of the board or some local educator could not be induced to do the job for nothing. Principal Housh explained that it had always been the custom to invite a State University man to speak to the class, and that the money was principally for hotel and transportation expenses. The report was adopted, after the exchange of a few pleasantries and the statement by Mr. Housh that a committee of the board had passed upon the plan. It was stated that the Garvanza schoolhouse was not insured, and this precipitated a discussion of the titles to properties acquired by the annexation of suburbs. A special committee, consisting of Foley, Giffen and Horgan, was appointed to investigate and sectire facts that may be later presented to the city attorney to the end that all titles shall be made perfect,

A communication from County Su-perintendent of Schools J. H. Strine stated that in the recent school census 552 pupils had been enumerated that were either under 5 or over 17 years were either under 5 or over 17 years of aga. Several members of the board held the census marshal censurable for the errors, and it was decided that the Finance Committee should investigate and formulate a report looking to the withhelding of salaries of officials responsible. The board will consider this report at its meeting next Friday at 5 o'clock p.m.

J. H. Francis. on behalf of the teachers of the High School, presented an appeal for a general raise in salaries. No specific schedule was suggested, but data was presented showing the average maximum and minimum amounts paid in forty-four other American cities. In the East the average minimum for class teachers is $350 a year, compared with $390 in Los Angeles; while the maximum is $1400. as against 1000 here.

DATE OF REOPENING.

The resignation of C. S. Hogan, as foreman of buildings, was presented previous to the election, and accepted. The board unanimously gave him a vote of thanks for faithful service. An invitation of the pupils of the Castelar-street school to the board to witness their work on the 20th and 21st insta. was accepted.

REPORTS ADOPTED.

The statistical report of Superintendent of Schools James A. Foshay for the month ended May 31, showed a considerably higher average attandance than for the corresponding month of last year. The average number belonging was 17,289; average daily attendance, 16,198.

The Finance Committee reported having examined and approved bills amounting to the following sums, and recommended that the sums be paid: For the county fund, $2219,52; library fund, $244,67; city fund, $198,59; grand total, $262,18. The report was adopted. REPORTS ADOPTED.

Mr. Foley questioned the autherity for the action under the city charter, and injected the question of the principalship. He moved that the office be created with the institution. This led to the introduction 68 several amendments, all of which were defeated after prolonged dicussion.

Roley and Horgan played the part of obstructionists, the latter arguing that the question had been sprugs so suddenly that he had not had time to consider it. He said his imagination led him to think that possibly forces were at work for the measure not entirely for the best interests of the boys and girls. After long wranging and the defeat of several amendments, the question was finally put, with the added provision that the new order was to begin with the opening of the pest school year in September.

PIPE LINE TO TIDE WATER.

There is a movement on foot to construct a pipe line from the Kern oil fields to tide water. The proposed line would cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. This would allow for the installing of pumping stations, which would be required over the proposed route. If such a line could be constructed it would be of great advantage in the transportation of the production of the Kern county fields. Promoters will soon enter the field and take immediate steps to ascertain the attitude of the producers.

ARIZONA BOVINE ON THE RAMPAGE.

A N ARIZONA cow, running amuck, created as much excitement in the city yesterday afternoon as a Texas steer on the rampage. The wild cow did not have so wide a reach of horns as the proverbial Lone Star bovine of the neuter gender, nor was she so nimble of galt as the Texan besom of destruction, but her horns were sharp enough and her movements fast enough to create a lively scampering for places of safety as she charged through the crowded streets.

No one appeared to know at the time whence the cow came, but it was learned that she belonged to a herd of range cattle shipped from Arisona for capturing by Simon Maler. She each couldn't run if he wanted to, cautioned at them to saft still and the cow would not molest them by.

Presently a man dashed into the house, and brough the three was a scrambling for the house. The man dismounted and tried to help the invalid to a place of safety, but the cow charged upon and tried to help the invalid so and the animal passed them by.

learned that she belonged to a herd of range cattle shipped from Arisona for slaughter by Simon Maier. She es-caped in some way from her keepers, and started on an exploring trip through the city. The unusual sights and sounds of city life excited her, and and sounds of city life excited her, and she started on a wild stampede.

The maddened beast was first observed in the vicinity of Temple street and Fremont avenue. A woman in that vicinity narrowly escaped being impaled on her horns.

ity of old Bossy's horns to that part of his anatomy which his mammy used to spank.

Turning into Broadway the cow continued down that thoroughfare past the City Hail. She did not stop to pay her respects to the Mayor and gentlemen of the City Council, but simply beliowed "boo-oo-ooh" as she rushed by.

Street cars and all sorts of vehicles gave her cowship full right of way, and pedestrians made a rush for neighboring stairways as though their only safety lay in reaching the top floor of some tall building.

In front of the Laughlin Block the usual row of bicycles was strung along the curb. A horse attached to a laundry wagon became frightened as the cow dashed by, and backed into the row of wheels. Down they went with a clatter, one after another, like a house of cards. One old codger's wheel was badly demolished by the wheels of the laundry wagon, and the owner wanted to collect damages forthwith from the driver, but the Jehu sald "nit."

kept on scattering the people who chanced to be on the street. Somewhere along the route she got her horns entangled in the slack of the seat of the trousers of a reporter of a more or less esteemed contemporary, who was too slow to get out of the way of the speedy animal. The trousers were so badly worn that the seat gave way, together with a plece of red fiannel drawers, which was borne away in triumph on the cow's horns.

The slow-going newsgatherer escaped injury except to his garments. In explaining how he happened to be in the way he said he was simply trying to get the facts of the runaway for his paper, but a wag of a spectator spoke up and said it looked like it was the cow that endeavored to get at the facts judging by the place she probed the reporter of the Trumpet.

With the red flag of anarchy still on her horns, the frisky bovine continued on her wild career. Turning into Fifth street she treed a little girl in a red frock. The child escaped by scrambling on top of a high fence. A worman was next scared into hysteries, but was hauled into a neighboring doorway just in time to escape wearing gored skirts.

TERROR TO HOBOS.

TERROR TO HOBOS. It would be difficult to trace all the meanderings of the cow. No one per-son kept her in sight all the time she meanderings of the cow. No one person kept her, in sight all the time she was on the rampage, and reports are very conflicting as to the various places she appeared. There was one report to the effect that she charged across the intersection of First and Los Angeles streets and cleared out the loafers who constantly infest the four corners there, but this seems improbable, as nothing has yet been discovered that could clear the curbs at that point. The police have long since given up the task as an impossible job, and it is believed that nothing short of the certainty of having to work could disperse the loafers who are wont to congregate there. If the rampageous cow scared them away, they did not remain absent long, for half an hour later the corners were as full of hobos as ever before, and not a man among them could answer the momentous question, "Why is a cow?" CAPTURE EFFECTED.

The cow at last wearied of the fruitless chase and sought shade under the boughs of an evergreen tree in the southeast corner of the grounds. She stood just inside of an iron picket fence and lunged victously with her horns at everybody that passed by. A lot of men crowded around with ropes and tried to lasso the beast. The cow, in attempting to escape, jumped over the fence, but her hind legs caught on the pickets and she fell headlong on immediately pounced upon her prostrate form and held her down while others bound her feet securely with ropes.

Wood was sent to Simon Melon that

SHE WOULDN'T STOP.

In front of the Police Station, Officer Randolph, the big colored policeman, tried to stop her, but changed his mind and beat a hasty retreat into the station when he observed that she didn't propose to be stopped, his movements being accelerated by the close proximity of old Bossy's horns to that part of his anatomy which his mammy used to spank.

others bound her feet securely with ropes.

Word was sent to Simon Maler that his runaway beef had been captured, and a hig freight truck to haul the animal to the stockyards. Loading the cow was no easy job, but the task was/eventually accomplished, and the cow that had made so much excitement was quietly passed along to her doom. NOT A SPRINTER.

"Are you the gentleman who was chased around the tree by the cow?" asked a bystander of the rheumatic gentleman in the invalid chair, while the cow was being loaded on the truck. "No, sir." was the emphatic and rather mournful reply. "I wish it had been me. I would be willing to pay good money for the privilege of having been the sprinter," continued he, looking sadly at his hopelessly-crippled limbs. "Why, sir. I would consider that cow the most valuable friend I have if she had been able to scare me into a run. Had she charged me, however, I would have been a helpless victim, and I prefer to take my beefsteak in some other way."

YOUNG HORSE THIEVES.

Two Small Boys Rattle the Policem and Amuse Themselves by Having Free Buggy Rides.

The police are looking with anxious eyes for two small boys, aged about 9 years, who are causing trouble on South Main street. The particular charges against these children are driving off horses and buggies and stealing what they find in the rigs.

Last Monday W. H. H. Reavis, an expressman living at No. 148 West Pichteenth street, drove to Tenth and Main streets and went away for a few minutes. When he returned his horse and wagon were missing, and he learned that two small boys had driven away with the outfit. At 10 o'clock

Name is Charles Earl Heimer.

A sixteen-year-old boy giving his name as Charles Earl Heimer was locked up in the City Jail for medical treatment last night, but it is probable he will be examined as to his sanity. Last Tuesday afternoon the boy appeared at a house out on the Mission road in an almost nude condition. He appealed for "protection from the officers," was taken in, quieted and given some clothea. He was kept at the house that night, but yesterday the family notified the police.

He talks in a silly, rambling way, and is evidently weak-minded. After persistent questioning he gave his name, and said that his parents lived in Santa Monica, where his father is an engineer in a haundry. He said he worked last summer on the Baldwin ranch near Passadena, and while riding a horse fell off and struck the ground, landing on his head. His reason far running to the house on Mission road last Tuesday, he said, is that men were after him. He is a slender, light-complexioned boy, with light hair and dark eyelashes, and says he has a brother living in this city, but no such person could be found last night.

means of jacks, the cavity filled in, and the building once more rests upon a firm foundation. Should another subsidence occur, the process of lifting is repeated.

Yawning chasms are constantly appearing in the streets, and in some instances the cavities are so extensive as to necessitate the closing of the thoroughfare.

The area in which these subsidences occur covers about two square miles. A few years ago the matter was brought before the attention of the British parliament, and the result of their investigations showed that damage had been inflicted upon 82 buildings, of which total 63 comprised houses and cottages. Some idea of the extent of the excavations in this area may be gathered from the fact that as a ton of sait represents are cupic yard, and 1,200,000 tons of sait are produced every year, therefore 1,200,000 cubic yards of solid material underlying the town is removed annually.

The water from the river also gravitates toward these subsidences, causing huge inland lakes, which agravate the danger. One of these lakes, locally called "flashes," covers no less than 100 acres and varies from forty to fifty feet in depth.

Notwithstanding the frequency of these subsidences and that they are often unexpected, strange to say not a single life has been lost. Havoc has been wrought among cattle, however, several animals having been completely engulfed. The tall shafts of the pumping stations are also another source of danger, since they are gradually thrown out of plumb, the list continuing until the stack heels over, burying and destroying everything in its path.

The bees in Manvel Cafion are turning out one of the largest crops of honey of recent years. That cafion is one of the offshoots from Santa Monica Cafion and has two large aplaries. The Johnson aplary has about 300 stands of bees and from them there have been taken thirty tons of honey this season. The year's honey output from that aplary is estimated at fifty tons. The pier was built three years ago, the piling being ex-tended primarily for the protection of tended primarily for the protection of the city's outfall sewer, which extends from the beach 1250 feet out to sea. The outfall is of cast-iron pipe with ball-and-socket joints, which allow a good deal of fexibility, such as is needed to accommodate the changing conditions of the ocean bottom. At today's meeting of the board, City Engineer James submitted a report showing that six of the piles were entirely gone.

"From the seventh bent out from the shore line to the end of the wharf." the report said, "the piling is more or less affected and will within a few months show evidence of decay if not destroyed altogether. The piling was treated before being driven with a process of asphaltum burlap wrapping, from the lower end of the pile to a point about six feet above the average water line. The teredo worm has not penetrated the pile in places where the burlay wrapping is solid and intact for a thickness of one-eighth of an inch, but about 30 per cent. of the piling of the ocean end of the wharf, or a distance of two-thirds of the length of the same, show portions of the burlap wrapping being torn away. But a Few Drops of Gasoline Left When San Pedro Was Finally Reached-Skipper Who Would Like to See False-whiskers Hallam.

AVALON, June 12.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Hugo's glass-bottom boat, which went adrift in a storm three weeks ago, was recovered after an exciting experience by George Michaelis, who, with his little launch, accompanied by Hugo, went to Newport after the craft Monday morning. They started homeward with the glass-bottom boat in tow, at 9 a.m.

up, and after a hard struggle for sev-eral hours, it became apparent that the launch and her tow could not make the launch and her tow could not make the island. The fear of running out of gasoline in mid-channel in the raging seas, determined them to run to san Pedro for safety. They headed about and a hundred times they thought they would be obliged to cast the glass-bottom boat adrift, or go down with it. Still they held on, and just at night-fall made the harbor, with only a teacup full of gasoline remaining. Procuring supplies they arrived here yesterday morning. Hugo, who has been a sailor all his life, says he would not take such chances again for all the boats in Avalon Bay.

Chappie's big rowboat, which went sdrift in the same storm, has been picked up at Laguna, but in such adamaged condition as to render it worthless. The other rowboat lost from Chappie's string, which was owned by Joe Adargo, has not been reported.

INTERESTED IN WHISKERS.

George Cornell, skipper of the Mascot, is interested to some extent in Hallam, the preacher with the disappearing whiskers. When the boat which he bought at San Pedro was being taken to San Diego, their engine broke down off the east end of Catalina, and one of the men from the boat rowed in here for assistance, making the mistake of judging the distance as five miles, when it was really about fifteen, and the man reached here in an exhausted condition, having rowed from 5 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon, of an exceedingly warm day, without a drop to drink, in a leaky boat, which he was obliged to ball out with his can and, when his cap gave out, he had to use his shoe. He engaged Capt. Cornell to go out to tow the boat in, and two days and nights were spent by him in scouring the seas before giving up the search, when it was found that the disabled boat had been picked up by a passing schooner, and towed back to San Pedro. Cornell would now like to see the joking preacher about $25 worth.

CACTUS CLUB EATS TAMALES.

CLAREMONT, June 12.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The last meeting of the year for the Claremont Cactus Club was held Tuesday evening. "California in the Civil War" was discussed by H. A. Palmer in a paper. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. F. W. Thomas: vice-president, Prof. F. A. Bissell; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. S. H. Brackett; Executive Committee. Rev. Henry Kingman and Rev. H. W. Jones. Literature will be the study for next year, although for what country or countries, has not yet been decided. As the past year's work has been on Spain, it was deemed fitting that the refreshments served during the social part of the evening should be steaming-hot tamales.

"In the spring of 1888 he tsook measles. He caught cold, the measles then settling on his lungs, causing such terrible coughing spells, we not only grew much alarmed, but looked for the bursting of a short start of the same floor of the bursting of a single start of the same floor of the low as too weak too cross the room. The doctor who lived with us on the same floor did him no good. I went to the other end of the town and stated the case to a druggist, who then handed me a bottle of Dr. Plerce's Golden Medical Discovery. My husband's recovery was remarkable in its speed. In three days after he began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Biscovery he was up and around and in two more days he went to work. Two hottes cured him."

GIRL HURT. Whatever you drink out-side, let your home beer be Schlitz. That is pure beer. GIRL HURT.

Alice, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Crows, was severely wounded this morning. She was playing in a sand box near the house with a number of children, when one of them accidentally srtuck her on the head with a hoe. The sharp blade cut a deep gash across the top of her head, penetrating to the bone, and extending so far that several stitches were required to close it up. The attending physician hopes that the skull is not injured, but says several days will be required to settle that point definitely. No bacilli in it - nothing to make you bilious.

Beer is a saccharine product, and the germs multiply rapidly in it. The slightest taint of impurity quickly ruins its healthfulness.

We go to the utmost extremes to prevent that. Cleanliness is a science where Schlitz beer is brewed.

Bill, who has been cooking for mili-ary camps for years, was ordered to eport yesterday to Maj. J. W. A. Off, n this city, to go with the advance mard of the First Brigade to Santa guard of the First Brigade to Santa Crus.

He arrived at the Armory bright and early, and, according to his custom, took personal charge of the major and assumed responsibility for the whole works. Bill is a dapper little coon, and when he gets on his uniform his dignily is something awful.

Bill began by objecting to the major's campaign hat. Maj. Off is one of the mattiest officers in the guard, and his hat was really a very fine one and cost sums of money. The only trouble was that it was a trifle too small for horse-back ricing. Bill gave an expert opinion that it would work up on the major's head and maybe fall off.

The major never disputes Bill because Bill is infallible, like all army cooks. The major might have found valid ground for criticising Bill's own hat, which had several things the matter with it. It was very dirty and dejected-looking.

Well. Bill carried the major's hat off

He grabbed it off his head and his asmishment was wonderful to see.

Misses' Ragians

Girls' Tallor Suits

We never do things by halves. We believe in making sales of the most popular goods that can be we know that we can make more friends by offering up-to-date merchandise than we can by offering include articles. To this end we inaugnrate a great sale of everything golden or gilt. No trimmings are more popular than those liberally high-lighted with gilt. Persian effects are probably the most popular and the most desirable of all. This sale offers trimmings by the yard, bolero jackets, collars, reveres, lace robes, etc., at average half the actual worth of the goods. We cannot begin to mention all the items, because them are in such limited quantities. All the advertised articles are in sufficient quantity to last a cannot begin to mention all the items, because the prices mentioned we expect to do the biggest trimming business ever done by a house west of Chicago. We have planned as scale. We will spread broadcast the best trimming values that were picked up by those who value elegance. This sale offers a splendid chance to dressmakers, but we wish to again impress the fact upon your minds that we give no disany favored class of buyers. One price to all, and during this sale that price averages half what the goods are worth.

sexes are represented in this unique family, are just as blythe and happy as he, and they make the somber old jail ring with melody, bringing cheer and comfort to many a heart steeped in sin and degradation.

It may surprise some persons that there are such sweet singers in the City Jail, and that they had their nativity there and are still kept in durance vile. But it is not so very surprising after all, when it is considered that Billy and his next of kin are canaries. They were bred by Matron Gray, who loves birds and believes that their merry songs exert a wholesome influence on the human unfortunates who are compelled to spend their time behind prison bars on account of wrongdoing.

Chief Elton is also a lover of birds, and this is how little Billy came to be made a trusty. The matron presented him to the Chief, and Billy now occupies a perch in the Chief's office, where he is rapidly learning the police business. There is a little bird that tells the big Chief a great many things. Maybe Billy, the canary, is it.

BRITONS ARE ACTIVE.

Claims Are That all The Leading Industries Are Busier Now Than Since First of Year.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) special of the Tribune says that the leading industries of this country are, with one or two exceptions, more active now than they have been since the beginning of the year. Shipbuliders ap-pear to be fully employed, and Glas-gow boasts of having achieved success in obtaining a large contract for steel tubes for South America in face of the tubes for South America in face of the keen competition of some United States firms. In the textile industry the outlook is, however, not very bright. Readers of the Mail, inspired by the articles in that paper on the subject of the American trade invasion of Great Britain, are allowed to give vent to their views in its columns. Some of them aver that the invasion is a myth, others say that the Americans do not play a fair game, and a small minority insist that the invasion is in many respects a blessing.

WATER COMPANY BAIT. EXPECTS TO EVENTUALLY TEAR THE OFFER TO PIECES.

The bait, in the form of the City Water Campany's proposition made to the City Council Tuesday afternoon, is not so tempting that it has been swallowed hook and all. The Councilmen are nibbling at it, and expect little by little to tear it to pieces.
Under advice from the City Attorney and Lee & Scott, who were employed for the city in the 'sation, the Council is preparing a statement wherein will be pointed out to the company parts of the proposition which the city cannot consider.
This is a delicate task on the part of the Council, for the reason that it has not the authority to make terms for the people in this compromise. The proposition of the Water Committee asks the Mayor and Council to agree to certain terms, but this the Mayor and Council will never do;
meither to the terms offered, nor to any others. It is not within the province of the Mayor or of the Council or of both to effect a compromise for the city.

The most that the Council can do in both to effect a compromise for the city.

The most that the Council can do in the matter is to recommend to the people some proposition which seems reasonable. The one now under censideration is not considered reasonable by members of the Council, and will, therefore, be attacked seday.

It was rumored at the City Hafil yesserday that the Council will today make a proposition to the water company, setting forth the conditions upon which the city will compromise. In view of the fact that the Council cannot make an arbitrary settlement for the city, this is an error. Consequently the document which will be presented to the Water Committee will be in the form of a criticism on the proposition made to the Mavor and Council.

It will not be the policy of the city, through the Council, to at any time make a proposition as a hard of compromise. This part will be left to the desirable from the standard withough both sides of the contromy meet on equal terms in the atmet to reach a compromise, by virgo of their difference the city is adicapped. The water company, ting for itself, can, without prefuce to its case, make any offer which may desire, but the Council, actrator the people, is in no position to ske an offer. A proposition made by trank in an effort to obtain custody of his little nine-year-old son, Francis C. Weldon, who is now living with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merick Reynolds, in their home at No. 128 West Twenty-fourth street.

Dr. Weldon thinks the hoy's mind is being poisoned against him.

It is all the story of a marriage that failed. In 1899 Dr. Weldon got a divorce from his wife, who had previously left him and taken their boy to the home of his grandparents. When the decree was signed, nothing was said as to the custody of the child, so that, as matters now stand, he is as much the belonging of his mother as of his father. Since the divorce Dr. Weldon has remarried and so has his former wife, who is now Mrs. Annie Lussier of San Francisco. Dr. Weldon's second wedding transpired only last May, and, when young Francis over the telephone told him hedd not want to attend the nupties, the doctor thought the boy was being won away from him, and no sooner was his honeymoon set than he began habeas corpus proceedings against the grandfather.

According to the showing, however, it appeared that neither Reynolds nor his wife is restraining the lad of his liberty, nor teaching him to despisable father. On the other hand they take pains to correct him on such matters, and keep him in their home by permission of his mother, toward whom he is very affectionate.

Judge Trask dismissed the writ, holding that the grandparents were not restraining the boy and that habeas corpus was not the proper remedy in the premises. He states that the child's custody should be determined alther by reopening the divorce suit or by instituting guardianship proceeding. The latter course will probably be adopted by the father, and a sharp contest is anticipated. Madison T. Owens, Esq., was counsel for Mr. Reynolds yesterday, while Assemblyman W. H. Savage was counsel for Dr. Weldon. as any further.

Ng Wing, the slayer of Wong Woon, was sentenced by Judge Salith yesterday for the crime of manslaughter. The convicted Chinaman got the limit. It was ten years in the penitentiary at San Quentin, and would have been more, except that the law prevented the court from following his own inclinations and making the punishment heavier.

tions and making the punishment heavier.

Juage Smita is of the express opirion that Wing committed murder.

Before sentence was passed yesterday Lecompte Davis, Esq., of the firm of Megars. Davis & Rush, argued a motion for a new trial, based on all the statutory grounds save that of newly-discovered evidence. In his argument attorney Davis analyzed the testimony of the two principal witnesses for the prosecution, and stated many times that he believed it all to be unreliable and in many instances perjured. He also took occasion to touch up the prosecution for providing new witness.

As excoad trial, which, he said in their testimony were true, should have been on hand at the first trial. Taking into consideration the well-known inclination of the Chinese to falsify, counsel thought the court in bounden duty to grant the motion for a new trial.

Attorney Phibbs, of the firm of duty to grant the motion for a new trial.

Attorney Phibbs, of the firm of Messrs, Marble & Phibbs, who, with H. H. Appel, Esq., assisted the District Attorney in the prosecution, replied to Mr. Davis, It occurred to Mr. Phibbs that the State's Chinese witnesses were remarkable for their veracity and he resented the idea of perjury. As he saw things, every circumstance pointed to deliberate assassination, and Wing was the assassin He accounted for the new witnesses at the second trial by saying that it was not until the latter part of the first trial that the State became aware of Wing's defense, for he never spoke a word after the fatal shot until put on the witness stand at his first trial, and the prosecution was led to believe that his defense would be a matter of identity, not of self-defense.

Mr. Phibbs en'ivened his talk in one spot by referring to one of defendant's witnesses as "that lying scoundrel." He also was certain that self-de-ense was little less than an "eleventh-hour" defense, and that the jury's verdict should have been murder in the first degree, punishable by the sentence of death.

Then Judge Smith, in denying a new criticised just now. They told the truth."

Judge Smith thought that, under the circumstances, it was natural for Wing to fiee after firing his gun into Wong Woon, but that, if it had actually been in self-de lense. Wing would have said so on many occasions, and particularly when confronted by the expiring merchant, while the latter was making a dying statement against him. But Wing said absolutely nothing.

"I fully expected." concluded the Court, "that the jury would convict this defendent of murder, but, since the verdict was for mansiaughter. I think he was very tenderly dealt with, and a new trial must be denied."

The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court, but mesutime Wing will proceed to San Quentin and begin serving time.

silver, it having a record of an output of more than $1.000,000 in a period of about two years. With the burning of the mill and the decline of the silver market, work was suspended, and the property has been allowed to lie idle for a number of years. The title also became involved in litigation, but Monagian, Murphy and West eventuality gained undisputed possession, and last December they sold it to Dr. Ussher of Philadelphia. It had been reported that Senator Wolcott of Colorado and associates were the purchasers, but Dr. Ussher says this is a mistake. Senator Wolcott never having been a party to the deal.

Dr. Ussher became interested in the property last October, while stopping in Southern California on his way to Nome. Upon investigation he decided that Southern California afforded as good opportunities for investment as the frozen north. In December he closed a deal for the old Bonanza King mine, and, returning to the East, he organized the Silver Queen Mining and Reduction Company, a close corporation composed chiefly of friends of Dr. Ursher' in Philadelphia and other eastern clies. No prettier spot than the Casitas Pass could have been chosen for this sylvan wedding. All around were rocky heights. Through the canopy of waving sycamores citts of sunshine fell dancing in golden flecks over the bridal party. The ground was aarpeted with nowers and waving grasses, and the altar was the fallen trunk of a mighty live oak, decorated with lichens and dainty mosses. The air was full of the sweet and spley smell of the wild sage, and the call of the wild doves and meadow larks mingled with the music of the waters of the Ventura river winding down the helefuls on its way to the sea.

The merry wedding guests, about forty in number, formed a circle around the bride and sroom, who stood upon a carpet of blue larks wing and ferns, while the words of the marriage service made the twain one.

BOSTON, June 12.—The new United States battleship Illinois, built by the Newport Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, was given her official trial over the course from Cape Aun to Boon Island today. The vessel left the upper harbor, where she had been anchored since her arrival, here, on Monday, soon after 8 o'clock, and made her way slowly toward Gloucester. The day was clear and bright and all conditions were perfect for a successful test of the big vessel. The official course over which the Illinois, to fulfill her contract, must sustain a speed of 16 knots, is 31 knots in length,—to be covered twice. At intervals of 6.6 knots government vessels were stationed to mark the course. Rear-Admiral R. D. Evans was in charge of today's trial, as the head of the government board. The other officers of the board are Capt. S. C.

THE ART OF LIVING

A HUNDRED YEARS. AVIL—REGULAR HABITS AND RIGHT

(by the Bev. Edward Everett Hale.)

THERE are books on bodily training. There are books on what peacie cail "self-culture," by which they mean the management of memory, imagination and reasoning powers, as they would say, of the mind.

And there are books which the careless reader would call "Sunday books," to be read when one must not read Hoyle's directions for whist, books which try to teach about the soul and its affairs; and go about their business as if these affairs had nothing to do with a sound body or a sound mind.

which has been proposed, where no-body says anything about right or wrong, duty or pleasure. God or devil; and where nobody cares whether you are near-sighted or whether your bead aches, whether you

UNION OF BODY, MIND AND SOUL

UNION OF BODY, MIND AND SOUL.

I have been asked to write a few words, not too many, on regular habits in the training of life, as they look to an old man who never had to go to bed in the day time and who never "enjoyed ill bealth."

Body, mind and soul all belong together; and we are fools if we try to separate them. We must take care of them together. We must train them together. We do not want first-rate gymnasts or athletes unless they are first-rate men; and we have no use for the monk of the middle ages who spent day and night in prayer and meditation, with a body which had no nerve or muscle or go, and a mind which was addied and vague in its spasmodic action. This man, nor a second-rate man, the soul, was not a first-rate man, nor a second-rate man. It is only by a stretch of language that he is called a man at all.

WISE BODILY HABITS.

The reader will please remember

The rules as I have found them are simple. They are well laid down in more than one book. Dr. Hammond's is as good as any:

(1.) Do not work the brain for six corrands and calculations about their own personal affairs. All this is well as the companion of the control of here, it is taken for granted that they are to be put through.

As to sleep, then, I will take it for granted that you get as many hours as you need. Some people need more, some less. Young people need more than old people. For myself, I take ten hours out of the twenty-four-one after my luncheon or midday dinner, nine between 9:30 o'clock a night and 6:30 o'clock in the morning.

Settle that matter as you need. But settle it. Hold on by your omnipotent power. If the factory bell requires 6 o'clock, or your work with hand or foot or brain requires 5 o'clock, 6 or 5 o'clock let it be. Do not change your mind every morning.

so'clock let it be. Do not change your mind every morning.

And it is always a good thing, if half a dozen people or more or less, can agree on this: If they will say, "We will meet at 5, at 6, at 7 o'clock, for breakfast," at whatever hour they all choose. In that case, it is much easier to hold the rule.

This is to say, in other words, that it is a good thing to live at home, or in some family which takes on the habits of home.

HABITS OF APPETITE.

HABITS OF APPETITE.

As to what a man eats or drinks, let him be his own master so completely that he can go through a day or a week without grumbling on the smplest ration possible. If he can do that, why, he may order sweetbreads or pate de fole gras or tenderioin steak whenever he can pay for them. But do not let us hear any grumbling about eating or drinking. When people ask me about smoking, I am apt to say that I wish they would not smoke, but that any man who can go without his pipe or his cigar for six months and not miss it may smoke. If he cannot, why the "poor critter" is a slave, and the first thing he has to do is to free himself from that exact slavery. This rule appears precisely in all matters of food.

And the reason is very subtle which prevents us from applying it in questions as to habits of drinking. A man who has smoked one cigar can determine as well whether he shall take to separate them. We must take care of them together. We do not want inversate gymnasts or athletes unless they are mistarcate men; we do not want expert calculators or brilliant authors unless they are first-rate men; and we have no use for the monk of the middle ages who spent day and night prayer and meditation, with a body which had no nerve or muscle or god which had no nerve or muscle or god vague in its spasmodic action. This man, with his cosseting of what he called his soul, was not a first-rate man, nor a second-rate man. It is only by a stretch of language that he is called a man at all.

In the Chautauqua courses, which have proved very well devised for the average American workingman, we find that eight closely-applied reading hours in a week will meet our requisitions, though we ask for more. I know that almost anybody, however much occupied, can get fourteen reading hours every week, and for people who come to me for advice, I order that, as if I were a doctor with a prescription blank, and Rx at the top of it.

let Him. Thus, the man succeeds in whatever is in hand, because he brings to bear infinite power.

When I was in Salignac's Drill Corps in 1861, we came at last, to our great joy, to the business of firing the old Springfield arms which they drilled us with. And of course Yalignac wanted us to pull them at the same instant, the same forty-seven thousandth fraction of a quarter second. And he said, "Don't pull as if you only wanted to start the hammer. Pull, each of you, as if you were starting a hundred-pound weight."

There is a great deal in it. Translated into every-day language, it means, "Use infinite power for what you have to do." Do not be satisfied. Miss Lavinia Hart a liar?"

There is a great deal in it. Translated into every-day language. "There's a reason—"

Will Miss Poggy, seeing as you're wicked, wicked women to talk about her that way!"

Astonished silence fell upon the whole week—and she gave me the whole week—and she gave me the queerest candy—it came from China, to outling the cytony out of power of the women. Then Mrs. Smither's volce, no longer oily and complacent, roze queerest candy—it came from China, outlingly.

"Laveze' Peggy, why don't you get down to facts?" elaculated Miss Lavinia. Is he going to marry her?"

"No, aunt, but I can't sit here and listen to such dreadful things about her that way!"

Mrs. Burkett. I've worked for her, and he's in the navy, and he's been gone five years—and—"

Mrs. Berming rose abruptly, saying "I declare, forgot that batch of bread, Like as not it's all over my clean foor."

Miss Lavinia looking decidedly agreeded in silence. One by let Him. Thus, the man succeeds in whatever is in hand, because he brings to bear infinite power.

When I was in Salignac's Drill Corps in 1861, we came at last, to our great joy, to the business of firing the old Springfield arms which they drilled us with. And of course we had to pull the triggers. And of course Salignac wanted us to pull them at the same instant, the same forty-seven thousandth fraction of a quarter second. And he said, "Don't pull as if you only wanted to start the hammer. Pull, each of you, as if you were starting a hundred-pound weight."

There is a great deal in it. Translated into every-day language, it means, "Use infinite power for what you have to do." Do not be satisfied with anything less. Then, as Long says of the Trojans in the fleet of Acneas: "You will find you can, because you says of the Trojans in the fleet of Aeneas:

"You will find you can, because you think you can,"
or in this case,
"You find you can, because you know you can."
"From Thee, great God, we spring, to Thee we trend." That is the whole of it. And any man who holds to that, why, he can "put through" anything he and God undertake together.
HOW AN EARNEST MAN GOES TO WORK.

WORK.

A man, then, addresses himself to this business in a spirit wholly his own. He does not address himself to this business in a spirit wholly his own. He does not address himself to it as a good-natured dray-horse addresses himself to his business of the day. A man, who is a man, is modestly conscious that he has infinite power behind him to rely upon, which sooner or later, as the day goes through, he can call upon. I have wondered, indeed, whether the unknown writer of "Aladdin" had not this in mind. Aladdin goes and conics, uses his own wits, which are better than those of the people around him; uses his own intelligence and memory carries forward his own plans, is in love with his own sweetheart, and acts, up to a certain point, as the other actors on the scene do. But when he is in a very hard place, he rubs his lamp, and infinite power comes out and does for him what all alone he could not do for himself. I say, I have wondered whether the unknown writer of this capital story meant to show what human life really is. He struggles and hesitates and falls till he calls on the infinite powers. And then, when he does call, they prove to be close at hand and he puts them through.

To resume this whole matter:

(1) Rule both mind and body with an iron hold. You are master.

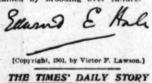

(2) For the body, enough good sleep, enough good food, enough good exercise.

(3) For the mind, regular work, work in the line of your genius and sieep, enough good food, enough good exercise.

(3.) For the mind, regular work, work in the line of your genius and stop when you are tired.

(4.) After you are 40, you may, if you are not a fool, choose your own rules, your own medicine, and your own food. But you will find that the more that you are in the open air and the more you are with other people, the better you will succeed. You will also find that there is nothing gained by brooding over failure.

"Oh, I don't know but it's your duty.

the unctuous reply of Mrs. Smithers.
"Well, that ain't all I've seen, either," skillfully baited hook. "You know

A girlish figure bending over a strip of renaissance lace in the rear of the shop straightened up suddenly, and an exclamation escaped her lips. But the women clustered round the front'door gossiped on excidedly.

"Didn't he take the train for town yesterday morning?" queried Mrs. Smithers.

"Yes, but he came back early dusk, with his arms full of white paper bundles. And when he got on the porch he tossed them helter-skelter on the settee, and—and—hugged her!"

"Ain't that dreadful!"

"Ain't that dreadful!"

"It miy look out of place for a single woman to say, but it does seem to me like a judgment on Doe Burkett for going off to marry a frivolous, do-nothing Boston widow, instead of some decent, thrifty girl in his own town. He ain't been dead three months, and here is another man hanging round his widow. Perhaps he's an old sweetheart. Everybody knows Doc was well fixed."

"Yes, and they do say," interposed Mrs. Demming, "them as was round

"Well, Miss Poggy, seeing as you're the only one in this party that has a visiting acquaintance with Mrs. Burkett, you might just walk up there and see who that man is."

ett, you might just walk up there and see who that man is."

"Oh, aunt, I can't! I couldn't ask such a question!"

"You don't need to ask. Worm it out while you're there. You can take to the thile you're there. You can take to the prhaps Mrs. Burkett might like to war them. with her widow's black."

The last words came spitefully.

"The last words came spitefully.

"The sir i stood in a pleading attitude."

"The is a nice way to treat your old aunt that's given you bed and board for ten years. Now you stop sniveling and trot along."

"Poor Peggy! Before those words, "Bed and board," she never hesitated. They formed the spiritual lash, which her aunt swung with unmerciful hand. The girl never stopped to reckon the mittens she knit for the shop, the lace she made, or the interminable days of fine sewing, as a recompense for the obnoxious "bed and board."

Drearily she lifted her simple sailor hat from the shelf beneath the counter and started on her hateful errand.

The great trees arched protectingly yover her head, the wild strawberries.

And in Mrs. Burkett's cool parlor the widow was saying:

"I do! feel so sorry for Peggy, Ned, the time take her to Boston when we go. She is ohandy why don't you have her tor your maid?"

The great trees arched protectingly over her head, the wild strawberries bloomed at her feet, and from the woodlands came the calls of her favorite birds. But her eyes were heavy with unshed tears. Was it not bad enough to listen day after day to the gossip that emanated from her aunt's shop without being forced into a partnership with the gossipers?

Languidly and tremblingly she mounted the broad steps leading to Widow Burkett's porch. That much-discussed lady met her at the door. Her quick glance detected the misery in Peggy's face.

"Come in, child, you look utterly worn out," she remarked, ushering Peggy into the dim, cool parlor. "What have you there? Oh, such lovely lace coliars! I must have one of them. But I'm afraid this sort of work is pulling you down. You're looking badly, Peggy."

The girl flushed guiltily, and her tongue clung to the roof of her mouth. Mrs. Burkett studied her curiously. "It is a long walk from the village.

The girl flushed guiltily, and her tongue clung to the roof of her mouth. Mrs. Burkett studied her curiously.

"It is a long walk from the village, and as soon as Ned comes in we'll have some lemonade."

Ned: That must be the awful man. And she called him by his first name with a proud light in her eyes. A brisk step sounded in the entry, the knob rattled, and Peggy turned dizzy and faint.

"Ned, dear, this is little Peggy sand faint.

"Ned, dear, this is little Peggy sand faint.

"Ned, dear, this is little Peggy sand faint.

"Ned, dear, this is mechanically, and as she caught the next words, she raised her eyes, swimming with tears, to Mrs. Burkett's astonished gaze. Delicious little chills were chasing up and down her hot spine. Oh, if only she might rush from the house, down the shady street to the shop. But, no; that man stood between her and the door.

Peggy had never seen just such a man before. He stood so very tall and straight, laughed in such friendly fashion, with his eyes, and helped her to tiny cakes and a drink, all cool, sweet and sour, with the air of Prince Charming of fairy book fame. From somewhere—far, far away came the trill of a riotously happy bird. Peggy raised her eyes once more to Mrs. Burkett's face, and this time there were no tears.

"Why, you're looking better already.

Burkett's face, and this time there were no tears.

"Why, you're looking better already, Peggy. And now, if you won't have any more cakes or lemonade, I shall carry you off to my room. I want you to see the beautiful silks and embroideries Mr. Lameroux has brought me from Japan and china."

The gossips at Mrs. Smithers's shop were becoming restless when Peggy came back. The girl fairly shivered with suppressed excitement, and her hand trembled as she stuck the hatpin through her stillor.

"Well, ain't you never going to speak?" snapped her aunt. "Didn't you hear anything?"
"Yes, I heard lots, aunt," enswered the sirl, trying hard to keep the exultation from ringing in her voice. The women leaned forward eagerly.
"His name is Mr. Edward Lameroux—"

UPMANN'S TYPE

THE BEST NICKEL CIGAR IN AMERICA

The name Upmann in connection with cigars has for 60 years been famous in every country throughout the civilized world. It means cigars which are always uniform-always good. It has never been necessary in selling the Upmann brands of cigars to assume the names of deceased gentlemen of distinction, as the name Upmann attached to them has always proven a guarantee of their superior quality and we as distributors back these claims with our reputation. Give Upmann's Extra 5 a trial.

Dismissal is the penalty for violation of these regulations. The spractice tot a due to regulations. The spractice tot a due to resonate combat is also prohibited and the principals and other persons involved, or any cadet abusing or condemning another for declining to accept a challenge will be dismissed. Col. Mills has furished the War Department with an official copy of the order setting forth the punishment administered to the cadets, other than those dismissed and suspended who were found guilty of participating in the disgraceful proceedings of April last.

the gringo with a good line. Not till the Pasadena man had landed a forty-pounder did the Mejicano believe that such a thing was possible—and then he was thunderstruck. Nobody in that part of Sonora had ever seen a fly rod, and its doings created a sensation. Every paisano along shore wanted one.

Fresh fish is quite a luxury to the jerked-beef eaters of Sonora, and the colonel kept the neighbors well supplied while he was at San Jorge's Bay, the terminus of the new railroad from the mines in the interior. The click of his wonderful reel will long be remembered down there, where they still do things as they did them when Christopher Columbus first went afishing in this part of the world.

GOLF EVENTS,

Enthusiasm is rampant in golf circles these days, and there are a number of notable events coming off during the next month. On Saturday the semi-finals in the Country Club for the president's cup, will be played, and Sunday will see the finish. This promises to be the most hotly-contested of any that has occurred on the local links. The green committee has handicapped with rare good judgment, and the outcome is an enigma, even to the best posted.

The Santa Catalina Island Golf Club will hold an open handicap tournament HOT CONTESTS COMING.

the outcome is an enigma, even to the best posted.

The Santa Catalina Island Golf Club will hold an open handicap tournament on the 21st and 22d insts, under the auspices of the Southern California Golf Association at Avaion. All amateur golfers are invited to enter these events, and the entries can be made with the Tufts-Lyon Arms Company any time before Thursday, the 20th. There will be an open handicap competition for the ladies, 18 holes at medal play, the play to be two days, nine holes each day. The open handicap competition for men will begin on Saturday at 9 o'clock, and will be 36 holes, medal play. There will be an open driving contest for both men and ladies, and the tournament will close with a mixed foursome, 18 holes medal play. A number of fine prizes, including gold medals, are offered.

The gold-medal winners of open competitions, will have their names and scores engraved upon the Santa Catalina open competition cups. The handicaps sent in by competitors will be subject to revision by the official handicapper of the Southern California Golf Association. Special rates have been made for all those participating in the tournament.

The Pasadena Country Club will give a club handicap tournament for men, beginning today, and lasting three days. On the first day a qualifying round of 18 holes, handicap medal play, will be had, with a prize for the best net score. On the second day, semi-finals, 18 holes, match play (handicap). On the third day the finals will be played, 18 holes, handicap. There is a trophy and second prize. Entries may be made any time before the first day of play, by telephoning Mr. Armstrong (sub $32,) or by letter to A. W. Armstrong, Altadena.

He proceeded to masticate that sural appendage to the queen's taste—and to his—but Ursus got out of deopardy with a few hard hooks to the prognathous jaw of his mate.

Bruin forced the fighting, clinching at every opportunity and keeping up his good work on that ear. Referee Rabe finally got them parted with a hot iron, and Ursus is now in the hospital. BOWLING.

OAKS DEFEAT IMPERIALS.

The first game of nine pins of the City Bowling League was rolled last night at the Oaks' alleys, the contestants being the Imperials and the Oaks. The latter won two games of the three, and have 12 to its credit, a total of 58 against 46.

Probably the feature of the evening was "Little Jimmle" Farquhar's work. He pushed "de boss" hard, and but for an unfortunate kick in the last frame and a bad foul in the first game, would have had the honors of the evening. Saim won out, principally, as the boys say, because of a new sky-piece which he sported.

The Imperials were not in good form. Carl Futznam did the best work, but even this was not up to standard.

A Forgotten Genius.

A Forgotten Genius.

[Prof. Joseph Ames in Review of Rewews:] The history of wireless telegraphy would not be complete without some mention of Joseph Henry, America's greatest scientist, for it was he who first, in 1842, discovered the oscillatory character of ceriain electric discharges, and who showed that these oscillations produced disturbances which could, by suitable receivers, be detected at distances of many rods and through intervening buildings. He even arranged an apparatus on this principle to respond to the lightning discharges of distant storms. The great genius of Henry was never more apparent than in his investigation of electrical discharges and their oscillatory nature. It is a lasting testimony to the ignorance among Americans of their own great men that the name of Joseph Henry is not included in the fifty selected for the "Hall of Fame" of the nation.

ONE LAW FOR ALL.

The recent decision of Judge Baker of Chicago to the enect that 'blacklisting" is legal has called forth some superficial criticism from per sons who hold, in effect, that there should be one law for employes and another law for employers. As a Average daily gain of May, 1901, over May, 1900, was 2,969 writer in the Chicago Record of June 2 points out, the decision of Judge Baker, as a matter of fact, "an nounced and applied fundamental legal principles that have been recognized in the law from time immemorial, both in England and in Mr Reichmann the writer above re ferred to, "it applied the very propositions of law in which all labor ganizations have found their judicial that the wholesome and salutary doctrines heretofore applied in favor of Consolidated Oil Company and the labor unions and concerted action of the part of laboring men, for the purwhose methods have frequently been apply equally in favor of united ac vestor and other financial publication along the same lines and for the same purposes on the part of the em-ployers of labor." THEATRICAL FOLK.

Orpneum and ask Martin Beck not to have that sort of thing any more. He is the man who selects all the acts for the Orpneum circuit; the man who caters to the theater-going public of the West. He is visiting in Los An-

the west, rie is visiting geles.

Next to Meyerfield, Beck is one of the greatest figures in the theatrical world today.

He is the "buyer" for a big trust. On his judgment as to what the people are going to want next, and as to what they like now, depends the success of the vaudeville to a very large extent.

what they like now, depends me success of the vaudeville to a very large extent.

Beck els a well-groomed, youngish man, who speaks slowly and with caution. He does not take as kindly to being interviewed, as Myerfield does.

He has just been through Mexico with Meyerfield on one, of their little "pleasure trips." It is generally supposed that the trip was really taken with the object of making arrangements with George Lederer and M. B. Leavlit to send a part of the Orpheum acts through the vaudeville circuits of Moxico and South America.

Beck has headquarters in New York, having lately moved there from Chicago, and has agents everywhere.

Few people realize what a constant and keen search it takes to keep a big vaudeville circuit supplied with talent.

Beck is on a still hunt all the time for acts and people of which he has heard. A large percentage of his steeplechases after cleverness end in disappointment. Clever people are rare.
